

FPA - Fire Safety Awareness Training Course Details

The Fire Protection Association (FPA) is the UK's national fire safety organisation, one of 28 similar national bodies worldwide. It was established in 1946 and has strong support from the insurance industry, primarily through the Association of British Insurers and Lloyd's.

Why Attend

The Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 has made fire safety training a legal requirement for staff members. The courses we provide are expertly delivered in-house, with programmes that will suit your time and date restrictions.

Course Duration

The course takes about 2 hours including presentation, DVD and quiz.

Who Should Attend?

The Fire Safety Awareness Training will provide employees with an overview of workplace fire safety and evacuation procedures.
